“We are pleased with our second quarter results, with our NII continuing the past several quarter’s steady growth as we rebuild the portfolio post our decision to de-leverage during the pandemic. Our portfolio’s credit quality remains stable despite the continued high levels of interest rates and inflation,” said Michael Gross, Co-CEO of SLR Investment Corp. “We believe this is due to our conservative underwriting approach, unique asset mix combining sponsor finance and specialty finance strategies, and focus on recession resilient industries.”

“The second quarter proved to be strong for originations. The market environment remains attractive, with the continued retrenchment by both regional banks and the syndicated loan market resulting in a compelling opportunity set,” said Bruce Spohler, Co-CEO of SLR Investment Corp. “We have experienced an uptick in the demand for our financing solutions and importantly we have significant capital to continue to take advantage of today’s favorable investment climate. We expect our net investment income per share to increase as we invest in what we believe will be a strong vintage for private credit.”
